I. Aims

Our SEND policy and information report aims to:

- Set out how our school will support and make provision for pupils with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND)
- Explain the roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for pupils with SEND

About the school

Newport Girls' High School Academy is a selective girls' grammar school located in Newport, Shropshire. Newport Girls' High School aims to enable each pupil to seek and achieve excellence in all aspects of life:

1. To provide a community in which pupils achieve their full potential in academic, aesthetic and sporting spheres.
2. To provide a community in which pupils develop personal values which enable participation in a caring society.
3. To provide a community in which pupils learn to recognise their responsibilities in local, national, international and global environments. We believe that every pupil, regardless of background, race or disability, has the right to access a broad and balanced curriculum equally. We consider it essential that the curriculum is presented in a supportive and stimulating atmosphere, which values each child and encourages them to achieve their full potential.

Student Ethos and Values

Our school is a community of learning. We value:

1. Respect and Equality

This is demonstrated by:

- Respecting each other's right to learn.
- Following the school's behaviour guidelines and showing respect for school property and our surroundings.
- Valuing and celebrating each other's diverse contributions in lessons and other school activities.
- Treating one another with dignity and respect.
- Accepting individual differences and supporting one another with patience and compassion.

2. Community

This is demonstrated by:

- Actively helping to integrate new members into form groups and into school more widely.
- Showing commitment and courtesy to others.

- Looking for opportunities to get involved in school and house activities to forge links within the school community.

3. Contribution

This is demonstrated by:

- Putting our best effort into our studies as well as supporting others in achieving their potential.
- Taking pride in our work and in our school overall.
- Following the behaviour and conduct guidelines at all times.
- Utilising available opportunities to show our talents and helping others to develop theirs too.
- Encouraging and participating in form, house and community activities.
- Supporting students with SEND in work experience placements so that they have equal opportunities and improved access to places at University.

This report is intended to supplement the Telford and Wrekin Council SEND Local Offer which can be found at <http://www.telfordsend.org.uk/>

2. Legislation and guidance

- This policy and information report is based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability \(SEND\) Code of Practice and the following legislation:
- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for pupils with SEN and disabilities
- The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, (SENCOs) and the SEN information report
- Definition of disability under the Equality Act 2010 - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

3. Definitions

A pupil has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision by teachers to be made for them.

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in school

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

4. SEND SUPPORT

- SEND Code of Practice (relating to Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014) defines pupils with SEND as those who have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.
- A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she: has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in school or mainstream post-16 institutions.
- A description of the procedures followed by staff at Newport Girls' High School Academy in order to support pupils with SEND is outlined in the following section.
- Admissions children in Year 6 who have been identified as having special educational needs are welcome to sit the school entrance test. The school requests that parents notify the school of their child's needs on the application form for the test.
- The application and any supporting evidence will then be assessed by an independent Educational Psychologist to determine if any special arrangements will be required during the entrance test.
- These arrangements are designed to ensure that all applicants are given equal opportunities to demonstrate their ability during the test. The school's admissions administrator, under the guidance of the Headteacher, implements the recommendations of the previous setting and informs parents of the arrangements.

5. Early Identification

- Regular assessment of all pupils is made in every subject from the beginning of year 7, which allows subject and pastoral staff to identify those pupils making less than expected progress.
- All staff are expected to identify pupils making less than expected progress in their subject area and be alert to any lack of progress in areas other than attainment, such as with wider development or social skills. Staff members are encouraged to discuss these concerns with the SENDCo as soon as they arise.
- We recognise that parents and the young person themselves are often in the best position to identify any difficulties, especially those which become evident as they develop. It is our policy to listen carefully to both pupils and parents in order to address any concerns they may have.
- When issues are raised and reported on our CPOMS system, the SENDCo will gather evidence from all members of staff concerned with the pupil, parents and the young person themselves. Careful evaluation of the evidence gathered will inform whether a formal assessment of the pupil should be made by an external professional and/or whether intervention designed to secure better progress is required.
- Students may be added to our 'Monitored list' as they await a diagnosis/further investigation. Evidence may be required in order to add a student to the SEND register. Support and intervention will still be given to these students via the SEND and pastoral team as appropriate.

6. Assess/Plan/Do/Review

Assessing and reviewing pupil progress towards outcomes

We follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review at NGHS.

- Assess: The information gathered on the young person during the identification stage, comprising staff/parental observations, formal assessment data and the result of any external assessments will be recorded and reviewed by the SENDCo. This will be used to paint a clear picture of the pupil's needs and inform the support and intervention to be put into place, including measures to be taken to support teaching and learning and any examination access arrangements. Access arrangements assessments for learning difficulties are carried out at Newport Girls' High School Academy by a centre appointed assessor in line with JCQ regulations.
- Plan: The SENDCo will then prepare a Student Passport, in consultation with teaching staff and using advice received from external professionals, parents and the student. This document will outline the support to be put into place, as well as the expected impact this will have on the pupil's progress or behaviour. Reviews of this provision will commence for each student with SEND support termly. However, pupil progress will be monitored more frequently than this. Teaching staff will be made aware of the plan and any approaches or strategies to be implemented. An important part of this planning stage will be consultation about the support to be provided with the young person themselves and their parents. This will take place via communications or meetings with a member of the SEND team.
- Do: At this stage, the support provided for the young person is implemented by all parties. Teaching staff will be supported and monitored by the SENDCo and Head of Faculty to ensure the SEND provision is effective.
- Review: At the agreed review date, the effectiveness of the measures implemented will be evaluated, in consultation with the parents and the pupil themselves. The review will reassess the pupil's needs and any support required will be revised in the light of the expected outcomes detailed in the student passport. At this point a new cycle of provision may be started if the pupil's needs are ongoing or the SEND support may no longer be deemed necessary. SEND provision for a pupil with an EHC plan will be subject to an annual review; students with an EHCP will also be part of the termly review process with the SEND team. The annual review meeting will usually be held in school in consultation with the local authority and all other interested parties.

8. SEND provision

Our school currently provides additional and/or different provision for a range of needs, including:

- Communication and interaction; for example, autistic spectrum condition (ASC), speech and language difficulties,
- Cognition and learning; for example, dyslexia, dyspraxia,
- Social, emotional and mental health difficulties; for example, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD),
- Sensory and/or physical needs; for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments, processing difficulties, epilepsy,
- Moderate/severe/profound and multiple learning difficulties.

- Physical disabilities such as hypermobility, arthritis and any other physical impairments where a student requires alterations in class and for assessments due to their condition.

Consulting and involving pupils and parents

We will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents when identifying whether they need special educational provision. These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty.
- We consider parents' wishes and invite their input to ensure that the child is at the centre of all arrangements made for them.
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child.
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are.

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record on CPOMS and only shared with teaching staff when relevant.

We will notify parents when it is decided that a pupil will receive SEND support.

9. Supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We will share information with the school, college, or any other setting the pupil is moving to. We will agree with parents and pupils which information will be shared as part of this.

Transition from Year 6 to Year 7

- All children starting at the school in year 7 are invited to attend 2 transition days during the previous term. The first day is structured into several short lessons to model the regular school day along with a session for students to start getting to know each other. The second day is a cross curricular day where students will make links to other cultures and rotate around different lessons, designed as an ice-breaker day. It is an opportunity for the pupils to meet their peers and some of the teaching and support staff they will be working with when they start in year 7. The staff involved in the transition day are briefed by pastoral staff to ensure those pupils with SEND are supported on the day.
- Teaching staff also visit the pupils in their primary schools to answer any questions pupils may have and to speak to the pupils' Year 6 class teacher.
- Pupils in year 7 are placed in forms with other year 7 pupils. This provides an opportunity to support one another during the first few weeks of the new term.
- During the first half term, the pastoral team hold an information session for parents of new pupils, during which they introduce themselves and disseminate information about procedures and systems within the school. This is also an opportunity for parents to ask questions and pass on relevant information about their child.

- Children and young people who have been identified as having SEND may be offered the opportunity for additional visits to school to familiarise themselves with the site and or the structure of the school day. Other additional support or visits may be provided dependent on the pupil's needs.
- At times, it may be appropriate to provide peer awareness training for other pupils in the same year group, form or class in order to support a pupil with SEND. This is offered with the consent of the pupil and their parents and is handled with sensitivity to ensure a balance is met between offering information, giving support and maintaining confidentiality.

Transition to further education

Pupils transferring to a further education establishment are supported in the following ways:

- Through the sixth form enrichment programme. The curriculum is planned to provide guidance on careers or future educational options, making applications or writing a CV, financial education and having a healthy body and mind.
- By encouraging independent study skills. Pupils with SEND are encouraged to make choices about their needs which are sustainable during their future careers, e.g. using technology to support writing or note taking.
- By ensuring all documentation held by the school in support of access arrangements is provided to the student during the application process and when they leave the setting.

Social and emotional development

It is our belief at Newport Girls' High School Academy that the social and emotional development of our pupils is as important as their academic progress. All pupils are supported via:

- PSHE lessons: the programme of study for personal, social and health education is varied, with age appropriate lessons throughout key stages 3, 4 and 5 including topics such as settling in and getting to know others in year 7, dealing with stress and anxiety, mental health and its importance, depression and coping with examination pressures. Details of the PSHE lessons and programme are shared in advance with parents and guardians so that all are aware of the content of the sessions.
- We have a school counsellor available to support students with SEMH issues – referrals to her are managed by Ms K Houston..
- Our pastoral structure has been developed to facilitate as much support as possible through the form and house structure. Forms are made up of pupils from different year groups and the girls are encouraged to work together in family groups during form activities. Activities may include discussion of current affairs/issues, sharing of experiences within the form group or sharing good practice in terms of study skills or revision.

We also aim to inform parents as far as possible to enable them to support their children effectively, through parents and guardians open/ information evenings covering key issues relevant to the school community.

Sometimes, additional support is required and can be provided by:

- Subject/general mentoring within the school, whereby older students support younger students in specific subject areas or more generally in terms of helping with organisation or with friendship issues.
- Weekly sessions with a trained counsellor or one of our two wellbeing officers designated for years 7-10 or years 11-13.
- Regular sessions with pastoral staff, the SEND team or members of the senior leadership team as additional mentors.

10. Frequently asked questions:

How can I let the school know I am concerned about my child's progress in school?

- ☐ If you have concerns about your child's progress you should speak to your child's subject teacher/form tutor initially.
- ☐ If you have further questions about your child's support or progress you should speak to the SENDCo or Head of Year. The SENDCo at NGHS is Miss L Baker. She can be contacted via school email (schooloffice@nghs.org.uk) or school telephone (01952 797550).

Training takes place on a regular basis. If you would like to hear about the training which is currently taking place or has taken place by the staff members in the school, please speak to the Headteacher (Mr A Jones).

How will the curriculum and learning environment be adapted for my child with SEND?

- ☐ Class teachers plan lessons according to the specific needs of all groups of children in their class, and will ensure that learning tasks are adapted in order to enable your child to access their learning as independently as possible.

- ☐ Pupils' academic progress is reviewed formally four times per year and an appropriate level/grade given in all subject areas except PSHE. Academic grades are supplemented with a grade for behaviour for learning and a third for independent learning, in each subject area. Sometimes supporting comments/targets are also offered by class teachers on grade sheets.

How have we made this school physically accessible to children with SEND? (Also see accessibility plan)

- ☐ The school has benefitted from extensive, modern extensions to the original 1920s building. These extensions have complied with all accessibility legislation and include ramps, lifts and a disabled wc/ shower room.
- ☐ We ensure that all equipment used is accessible to all children regardless of their needs.
- ☐ The school's accessibility plan outlines current priorities and plans for improving accessibility in the school environment.

How do we enable pupils with SEND to engage in the range of activities in school (along with those pupils without SEND)?

- We have high expectations for all of our pupils, including those with SEND.
- Where there is a barrier to a young person with SEND participating in any school activity, including extra-curricular activities or school trips, we work hard to remove the barrier. This might include, for example, making the activity more accessible to a physically disabled pupil, rescheduling activities to allow for medical requirements, improving the staff to student ratio, or assisting with the costs associated with the activity.
- During every SEND review, a child with SEND and their parents/guardians will be asked about whether their child is involved in any extra-curricular activities. This information is logged and monitored as it is vital that pupils with SEND have the same opportunities available to them as non-SEND students.

- Full risk assessments are undertaken ahead of trips or other special activities to ensure the health and safety of all pupils is maintained.

How have we made school information accessible to children with SEND?

- ☐ School information such as letters, reports and curriculum materials are provided in a clear and easy to read format.
- ☐ Where an individual has needs which affect the accessibility of printed information, teachers and support staff endeavour to provide this information in an accessible format.
- ☐ The school's accessibility plan outlines current priorities and plans for improving accessibility of school information, where possible.
- ☐ Examples of this include:
 - Providing worksheets and other materials on coloured paper for pupils with a visual impairment, dyslexia or visual stress
 - Using software to improve the accessibility of electronic material on interactive whiteboards
 - Using pdf copies of textbooks in lessons
 - Supplying electronic copies of worksheets so they can be modified into a different font or font size
 - Providing large print versions of English set texts
 - Providing modified copies of school information such as timetables, grade sheets and maps.
 - We have a selection of designated SEND laptops which can be provided for students with SEND to support the enlarging of material.

What support is available for improving the social, emotional and mental development of pupils with SEND?

- Wellbeing support is prioritised by form tutors and any concerns are raised and addressed by the Wellbeing team.
- Regular meetings are offered with the SEND or pastoral team where strategies and support is given and reviewed.
- External providers such as the Sensory Inclusion Service (SIS) offer regular appointments to facilitate the social inclusion of the young person with a vision or hearing impairment.

- A referral for appointments with the school counsellor can be made where appropriate.

How do we ensure that pupils with SEND are not treated less favourably than other pupils?

- The school has a duty under the Equality Act 2010 to ensure that pupils with SEND are not discriminated against and to make reasonable adjustments to ensure a young person with SEND can be included in the whole of school life.
- We carefully consider the needs of all young people with SEND and are committed to making judgements on an individual basis to ensure needs are met and that no pupil is disadvantaged.
- The SENDCo carefully monitors the use of school, sanctions and rewards to ensure that SEND pupils are not over or under represented. In addition, wider school opportunities are encouraged and tracked by our Inclusion Team. Opportunities beyond sixth form are monitored by the sixth form team.

How do we evaluate the effectiveness of our provision for SEN/D pupils?

- All young people with SEND are encouraged to discuss with staff members any issue which is causing them concern.
- All pupils are made aware of the procedures to follow and who to speak to if they have any issue in school. This might be a friendship, academic or pastoral concern.
- Regular review meetings are held with the young person with SEND to review their academic progress, the provision made for them as an individual and to provide a forum for the young person to share their views or concerns.
- Provision made in school is regularly reviewed strategically by the SENDCo and Head teacher to ensure it continues to be effective.

How do we ensure effective safeguarding procedures are in place for SEND students at Newport Girls' High School?

- Our school recognises that students with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) may face additional safeguarding vulnerabilities. These students might experience greater risks related to bullying, abuse, neglect, and exploitation due to their unique needs and potential difficulties in communication and understanding. We are committed to providing a safe and supportive environment for all students. Our safeguarding measures include training for staff to identify and respond to signs of abuse, tailored support plans that address the specific needs and vulnerabilities of SEND students, and a robust reporting system to ensure any concerns are promptly and effectively managed. By fostering an inclusive and vigilant school culture, we aim to protect and empower our students with SEND, ensuring their well-being and academic success.
